Founded in 1843 by Bishop Charles de Forbin Janson. It is the official agency of the Church by which Catholic children of the world contribute through their prayers and sacrifices to the welfare of other children in more than 100 mission countries. Since its beginning, it has become the personal favorite of every Pope. In 1926, Pope Pius XI elevated the society to Pontifical rank. Holy Childhood endeavors to attain its ends through the united efforts of all Catholic children who are taught to recognize that sensitivity to others is an essential dimension of Christianity. Funds raised through children's efforts are directed to the Association's two-fold mandate, the majority being distributed annually to every part of the mission world by a Ponitifical Commission and a portion being directed to education of children in the United States.

The Education and Promotion Fund solicits adult donations for the purpose of underwriting HCA educational efforts so that a greater portion of children's donations reach children in need.

All allocations sent to the missions through the agency of the Holy Childhood are used solely in the interests of the children of these missions. The Association is officially established in all archdioceses and dioceses of the United States.

To Christianize the secular order, members are consecrated to God through the vows of chastity, obedience and poverty. They pursue individual apostolates, seeking to manifest Christ in all the circumstances of their life and work. Spirituality is Marian and Ignatian.

Voluntas Dei Institute (1958): 4557 Fairway Ct., Waterford, MI 48328. Rev. George F. Hazler, Contact Person.

Approved as a Secular Institute of Pontifical Right in 1987.

The Institute unites in a common ideal—priests, laymen and married couples as associate members. Aim: To discover the will of God, adhere to, love and carry it out in the world. The Voluntas from the same region meet regularly to pray, celebrate, and share the Word of God. They enrich each other with their human, Christian and apostolic experiences. Through this team, life and personal spiritual attitudes including the evangelical counsels are prolonged. The members seek to bear witness in their milieu, where they work, or with their families

Don't Blame The Bartender

Tonight Was a Long Time Coming

Could this priest be heading for his car? Let's hope not. Clearly, he's been drinking and he'd be putting in harm's way not only himself, but every occupant of every car on the road he drives.

Maybe he intends to walk. In which case, he might very well meet members of his congregation along the way. They can't fail to notice his unsteady gait and unfocused eyes. Will they feel shock or disappointment? More likely, what they'll feel is a sudden sense of abandonment.

Who's to blame? Alcoholism is a disease. The victim seldom is able to shake its tenacious grasp without a helping hand. Think about it. Didn't you notice, or at least suspect, before tonight, that Father had a chemical dependency problem? What steps have you taken?

One Out of Ten

Chemical dependency is a problem so widespread that at least ten percent of the Catholic clergy is afflicted. The popular impression is that men who are not treated are left to suffer the horrid consequences alone. That's simply not true. They don't suffer alone. Members of their dioceses fall victims, too.

If this priest decides tonight to drive in his impaired condition and has a serious accident, it could cost his diocese tens of thousands of dollars in legal fees and lawsuits – programs will have to be eliminated, parish improvements canceled, needy people deprived.

Shame shared.

You Need to Act Now

Time and time again, the court says, "They're your employees. You're responsible." If they get in an accident, the diocese is going to pay.

As for those parishioners the priest may encounter if he instead decides to walk – no monetary system can repay the damage done them.

No Priest Is an Island

In the end, of course, it's not a moral issue for the alcoholic, but for you. We're only following our Faith in giving troubled clergy the "hand up" they require to continue their work with success and sobriety. They need us. More importantly, we need them. Denial by the priest or deacon is generally part of the problem, so contact us at Guest House for help on how to proceed. Call now. We are able to provide a complete spiritual, psychological and medical evaluation at no charge.

the miracle of GUEST HOUSE

If It Wasn't For This...

Over 90% recovery rate

Five years ago, Guest House began admitting Catholic women religious for chemical abuse treatment at its Lake Orion, Michigan campus. Male clergy are treated separately at Guest House's Minnesota facility. How successful has the Lake Orion Guest House program for women been? Periodic surveys conducted at six months, twelve months and eighteen months following discharge show a consistent abstinence rate of 90% or higher.

...There Wouldn't Be This.

Clothing for the needy

Helping an uneasy young mother feel welcomed, this sister has an unusual bond with people down on their luck. She's a recovering alcoholic. One night not long ago, she was too drunk to make it back to her community. It was a homeless person who saw to it that she was taken to an emergency room. Today, she's a graduate of Guest House, living a sober, successful life. If you know of a sister suffering from chemical dependencies, our free evaluation program could be of great help.
